

A new way to protect your creative work – Hassle free copyright registration

“icreateditfirst.com”: a new service launched in December 2003 that helps protect the creative work of musicians and other creative individuals or organisations by registering and dating their work on a secure website. Protect your work and save time, hassle and headache.

“icreateditfirst.com” brings the internet age to creative people needing copyright protection for their work. Aimed initially at the musically creative, “icreateditfirst.com” introduces convenience, simplicity and immediacy to what is a tedious, unreliable and often undone chore.

“icreateditfirst.com” is the brainchild of David Maitland, whose hobby is to be a creative computer music writer whilst his main stream career is in IT. He knows a great number of talented, gifted and innovative people creating lyrics and music in need of protection of their Intellectual Property.

The law of copyright in the UK does not protect ideas – it only protects the expression of those ideas. Hence David and his fellow Directors has set up “icreateditfirst.com” to provide a registration, time-stamping and secure storage service for all creative work. “icreateditfirst.com” can be used to prove the origin and date of registration of your work.

Copyright registration requires a permanent record of your work as well as a timestamp provided by a trusted third party associated with that work. “icreateditfirst.com” now provides this in a more reliable way than ever, allowing you to assert your copyright and hold your work in a safe storage place on a trusted website.

The website is protected with state of the art security and backup systems and provides a timestamp taken from the most widely trusted operating system. “icreateditfirst.com” gives simple and easy protection for any idea or creation and is extremely cost effective. Other copyright protection alternatives are less safe, more hassle and/or more expensive!

“icreateditfirst.com” was researched, planned and developed over the last 2 Years and is THE web based service for your creative work. Try it now!

Anyone logging into www.icreateditfirst.com can try the service free of charge for one month. Test out the functionality, check the Term & Conditions, Privacy Policy and FAQ's and gain confidence that this is a service of real value to you! Go on –GET PROTECTED – hassle free.
